

BLOUINARTINFO

VISUAL ARTS / GALLERIES / ARTICLE

Iva Gueorguieva and Dona Nelson's 'Portal' at Sophia Contemporary, London

BY BLOUIN ARTINFO | FEBRUARY 20, 2018

 View Slideshow

Dona Nelson, Black Points, 2015
(Courtesy: Artist and Sophia Contemporary Gallery)

RELATED

VENUES

Sophia Gallery

Contemporary

Sophia Contemporary hosts Iva Gueorguieva and Dona Nelson's "Portal" at its London venue.

The exhibition titled "Portal" is the first two-person show of American artists Iva Gueorguieva and Dona Nelson. These two artists come from two successive generations of artists whose work is at the forefront of contemporary abstraction in the United States. Using the modes of painting and sculpture, both artists grapple with the history of painting, redefining abstraction, and challenging the material and conceptual boundaries of their media. With this exhibition, they intimate intergenerational visual dialogue through fifteen works including Iva Gueorguieva's vibrant acrylic and collage works and Dona Nelson's signature double-sided freestanding paintings.

The exhibition will be on view from March 15 through May 3, 2018 at Sophia Contemporary Gallery, 11 Grosvenor Street, Mayfair, London, W1K 4QB, UK Tube Station: Green Park, Bond Street & Oxford Circus.

For details, visit: <http://www.blouinartinfo.com/galleryguide/sophia-contemporary-gallery/overview>

Click on the slideshow for a sneak peek at the exhibition.

